

15 Minutes a Day

Why the smallest daily habit builds the biggest freedom.

THE MATH OF IT

The best 15 minutes you'll spend today

Fifteen minutes is nothing. It's a coffee. A scroll. A song or two. But spent on the right thing, every day, it quietly builds into something that can pay you for years.

That's the quiet magic of content. You're not signing your life away or learning a hard new skill — you're giving fifteen minutes to a habit that compounds. No experience needed, no big time commitment. Just a small daily deposit into something that grows.

YOUR DAY

24 hours

15 min of content

= about 1% of your day

THE MINDSET

You don't need more hours. You need fifteen focused minutes pointed at something that keeps working after you've closed the app.

YOUR ONLY JOB

All you do is press post

Here's the part that surprises people: the hard stuff isn't yours to carry.

You don't have to think up ideas, learn strategy, or figure out what's working. The direction, the growth, the behind-the-scenes — SBM handles all of it for you. Your fifteen minutes go to the one thing only you can do: show up and be yourself on camera.

YOU

Press post.

Show up as yourself,
15 minutes a day.

SBM HANDLES

- ✓ Content ideas & direction
- ✓ Growing your platform
- ✓ Brand deals & the money side
- ✓ Every system behind it

100% DONE FOR YOU

It's completely done for you — and it never costs you a penny upfront. You bring the fifteen minutes; everything else is carried for you.

THE ONLY WRONG MOVE

Start before you feel ready

Nobody feels ready. The creators earning today all started exactly where you are — no following, no clue what they were doing, no perfect plan.

Waiting feels safe, but it's the one thing that actually costs you. Every day you start is a day your platform is growing. Every day you wait is a day it isn't. Ready comes from starting — not the other way around.

TRUTH

The best time to start was a while ago. The second best time is today — and today's fifteen minutes is the one that starts everything.

THE SAFETY NET

There's genuinely no way to lose

Here's what makes fifteen minutes a day an easy yes: you're backed by a promise.

SBM is so confident it'll get you earning from your content that if it doesn't, you're paid $500 out of their own pocket. So the only thing standing between you and results is showing up. The risk isn't yours to carry.

You get monetised
and earning from your content or

$500

paid to you, our treat
if we don't get you there

Either way, you win.

SO ...

Give it fifteen minutes a day. Worst case you're $500 up. Best case you're a paid creator with something that keeps growing. That's the whole deal.
